

HOW RELYCO BECAME NEVADA'S TEMPORARY DMV PLATE PROVIDER

If you're buying a car in Nevada, its temporary license plate will be printed on REVLAR synthetic paper. Here's how RELYCO makes registering vehicles easier — and better — for the state's DMV and dealerships across Nevada.

Ted Imfeld of the Management Services & Programs Division at the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles said he began researching a waterproof solution for the state's temporary vehicle license plates in 2014. They needed a durable synthetic paper that could be easily printed on, but would also stand up to Nevada's snowy winters and swirling summer sands. Additionally, dealerships across Nevada had to be able to place orders for this temporary DMV license plate on an as-needed basis.

SERVICE SETS RELYCO APART

Imfeld's research led him to three durable paper providers, and the key differentiator for RELYCO was service.

“Everyone at RELYCO just took a huge weight off of my back. The need arose before we were involved with RELYCO, but they came along and filled the need really well. I can't thank them enough, or give them enough praise for that.”

RELYCO has always prided itself on our company's dedication to customer service, so it was wonderful to hear from Imfeld that our service set us apart from the competition.

Ultimately, we created a special purchasing program for Nevada dealers to place their orders directly with RELYCO for the temporary DMV license plate. The Nevada DMV doesn't have to keep track of the plates directly or maintain an inventory of REVLAR products, and the dealerships don't have to work with the DMV as the middleman in the transaction, which simplifies things for both sides.

THE BENEFITS FOR NEVADA

- The plates are easily trackable for law enforcement, allowing police to figure out who is (and who should be) driving every vehicle with a temporary placard
- Durable temporary license plates that can withstand Nevada's weather
- Cost and time defrayed for the Nevada DMV because RELYCO works with and ships directly to dealerships
- Dealerships have access to quick orders and shipping to handle the approximately 25,000 new vehicles sold every month in the state

Now all temporary plates in Nevada are printed on RELYCO's waterproof, tear-proof REVLAR synthetic paper. We have shipped out 1.5 million plates to Nevada dealers thus far!
